

#MOMOCHALLENGE

A new challenge called #MomoChallenge has appeared recently in the social networks. It is similar to Blue Whale challenge and it starts by sending mysterious messages to the victims. The participants are then asked to carry out dangerous tasks that may lead to suicide. If the victims refuse to carry out these tasks, they will be threatened and blackmailed with pictures and private information taken from the phone number registered in their social networks.

You are advised not to respond to any unknown numbers and not to involve in such challenges.
